GIRL DINE

Marion, Ohio

For Christmas festivities and a sumptuous appointed dinner, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Armstrong, of Senate street, threw open their home Christmas day to a number of relatives and friends. The house was handsomely decorated with symbols of the season, and in one corner of the living room was a huge tree from which hung fascinating novelties. As the guests were seated at the table Santa made his appearance with a huge sack on his back, from which he took package after package and presented them to the guests. Those enjoying Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Blackburn

W. D. Cronister and children Julian and Willis, of Los Angeles, California. Mrs. Armstrong was formerly Mrs. Myrtle Carney, of Pike Run.

Sams Creek

Fred McCabe, of Adelphi, and Maude Vanfossan, of this valley, attended dedication services at Haynes, Sunday night.

Mart Crosby, of this valley, is going to move to Pike Run, this

sk. We are sorry to lose him in our midst, for he is a kind obliging neighbor and friend.

Mrs. Rosetta Davis called on her at Elizabeth Arledge, one day a week.

Mrs. Lulia Black visited Sams Creek school, last Friday afternoon to see the scholars receive their treat, which was very liberal for so many of them, about eighty.

D. L. Archer, of Salt Creek, was hauling saw dust, Monday of this week, preparatory to harvesting the ice crop, which is now ready.

Mrs. Mary Pierce and son Virgil were visiting Maggie Brokaw, Monday of this week.

Eddie Vanfossan finished butchering, last week, this being the last he has this year.

Protracted meeting began at the Sams Creek U. B. church, Sunday night, Dec. 26th, Rev. G. W. Tuttle being the pastor in charge.

We will close our items for this time, wishing everybody a happy and prosperous New Year.

UNCLE EPH

Beech Hollow

Quite a number of the young people of this place attended the Christmas entertainment at Webb's Chapel, last Friday night and report it a success.

The Christmas entertainment at the St. Paul's Lutheran church, Sunday night, was well attended and all enjoyed a good time; the decorations were very artistic and elaborate.

Ray Davis and lady friend attended the Christmas entertainment at St. John's, Saturday night. Alice and Maud Marlow will go to Cleveland, Ohio, this week to visit their sister, Mrs. Hammel.

Oscar Smith, of this place, was calling on his lady friend, Sunday afternoon.

Joe Martin, of Kirkersville, O., is spending his vacation week with his friends Earl and Goldie Howdyshehl, of this place.

Carlos Wolfe and lady friend attended the entertainment at St. Paul's, Sunday night.
